Unchosen

We are living in a time of the struggle. The struggle isn't just to keep you from enjoying what you have, but it's to keep you from what God has for you. You have to know your worth. God began to speak to me in an unusual way, about the struggle. He first asked me a few questions. Some, I assumed He already knew the answer to, but was testing me. The question was, "Are you my child?" I laughed and said, "Well, yes Lord, why should you ask such a question as this?" He led me to the word, "Train up a child in the way he should go, even when he is old he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6 Many of you thought this reflects what we should do as parents in our homes, but this is actually a lot deeper to me. God showed me in a vision of a man of authority. The man was dressed in armor. He stood with such authority. He walked with his shoulders back, head up and with so much confidence. Before him were little children playing. It seems as though it was in a park, because the kids seem to be so busy and excited there. The man walked over to the kids and they gathered around him. They sat before him. They listened to him. I began to see the influence that he had on them. Even with the amusement and noise around them, they sat, listened, and heard. Many of us are running around in the amusement park of life. We are running in confusion, searching for God and we have gotten caught up with the noise, in our ears.

Seeking the Abundant Life

Unicorn took the world by storm with his sweet nature, sunny outlook and positive attitude in the best-selling feel-good book Be a Unicorn. Now he is back with this little book of life lessons. Looking for some guidance on how to live a happy, sparkling life? Or just wondering which path to trot along? Look no further than Unicorn, the best (and probably only) four-legged, one-horned happiness guru. With enlightenment on every page, let Unicorn teach you how to hopscotch over all of life's trials to a place where the grass definitely grows greener. With adorable quirky illustrations and wise, thoughtful and often completely hilarious life advice, this is a little book to keep firmly in your pocket, ready to be consulted whenever life gets a little bit tough. UNICORN WOULD: Wear the jumper that Granny knitted with pride. Sing Pharrell in the shower. Walk in someone else's flip-flops. Try new things uhm beetroot juice pink, yummy. Make every day count. UNICORN WOULD NOT EVER (NO THANK YOU MA'AM): Worry about a bit of dust. Eat someone else's chocolate. Blame others - 'my Panda made me do it'. Dwell too much on the past. Take things for granted.

Forever Lost

From a god-fearing Muslim boy enraptured with their mother, to a vocal, queer drag queen estranged from their family, this is a heart-breaking and hilarious memoir about the author's fight to be true to themselves My name is Amrou Al-Kadhi - by day. By night, I am Glamrou, an empowered, fearless and acerbic drag queen who wears seven-inch heels and says the things that nobody else dares to. Growing up in a strict Iraqi Muslim household, it didn't take long for me to realise I was different. When I was ten years old, I announced to my family that I was in love with Macaulay Culkin in Home Alone. The resultant fallout might best be described as something like the Iraqi version of Jerry Springer: The Opera. And that was just the beginning. This is the story of how I got from there to here: about my teenage obsession with marine biology, and how fluid aquatic life helped me understand my non-binary gender identity; about my two-year scholarship at Eton college, during which I wondered if I could forge a new identity as a British aristocrat (spoiler alert: it didn't work); about discovering the transformative powers of drag while at university (and how I very nearly lost my mind after I left); and about how, after years of rage towards it, I finally began to understand Islam in a new, queer way. Most of all, this is a book about my mother. It's the journey of how we lost and found each other, about forgiveness, understanding, hope - and the life-long search for belonging.

Really good, go get it!" — President Donald J. Trump No job is more of a pressure cooker than being a White House press secretary...especially in this White House. For more than two decades, Sean Spicer had been a respected political insider, working as a campaign and communications strategist. But in December 2016, he got the call of a lifetime. President-elect Donald J. Trump had chosen him to be the White House press secretary. And life hasn't been the same since. When he accepted the job, Spicer was far from a household name. But then he walked into the bright lights of the briefing room, and the cameras started rolling. His every word was scrutinized. Every movement was parodied. Every detail became a meme. And that's just the public side. Behind the scenes, things were almost as difficult in an administration plagued by leaks that frustrated and angered both Spicer and the president. Not to mention the extraordinary pressures on Spicer's family and his faith. Now, in his provocative and enlightening political memoir, The Briefing, Spicer reveals the truth behind some of the biggest news stories of our time, and he offers a glimpse into what it's like to stand at the press secretary's podium—and how he got there. The Briefing is the first insider account written by someone who worked on the Trump campaign, with the Trump transition team, and in the Trump White House—and has seen Donald Trump rallying voters, building an administration, and making crucial policy decisions. Spicer's riveting and personal account makes The Briefing the must-read political memoir of the year.

Here is a simple, easy-to-read, delightfully illustrated book for young children! The author presents, in a very easily comprehensible way, the basic Spiritual truths, explaining who we are, where we have come from, why we are here and the part God plays in all our lives. It is our responsibility as adults and particularly as parents, to ensure that our young children come to an understanding of the truths about Spiritual matters at as early an age as possible. This book is meant to develop a child's imagination, awakening tender young minds to the beauty that lies all around us and to connect with that beauty in an inspiring and meaningful way. It also explains, in simple terms, realities about creation and the subtle higher energy vibrational levels, which exist in close proximity all around us. The exercises and experiments will delight and amaze, as well as nurture your child's creativity, introducing, in a fascinating way, the truths that are fundamental to our understanding of our existence here on Planet Earth. Your child will learn that life is meant to be fun and to be enjoyed. But there are rules, as in any game! This book explains these Spiritual Universal Laws, helping your child to see this world as the wonderful, amazing, beautiful place it really is, and to live a life of fulfillment, joy and abundance. What more could you ever hope for?

Daniel Nash struggles to reconcile his feelings of betrayal with his desire to understand his life. His hopes of uncovering the secrets revealed in his father's journals are quickly dashed, and he works with a private investigator to discover the truth. Worry about his wife, Sarah, combines with his efforts to cope with his childhood trauma, an unexpected death, and the recent revelations. His obsession with the past threatens to destroy his stable life. Meanwhile, Sarah and her father, Tristan, continue to combat the lingering discord that developed between them years before but refuse to take their main focus from Daniel. As he reviews his biological father's efforts to be a good man, Daniel searches for a way to comprehend shocking disclosures. He questions his own goodness as he fights not to emotionally withdraw from those around him, especially the two people he knows will always love him, Sarah and Tristan.
