18 Ways To Get Better At Working Under Pressure

See Revelation 2:5 and 3:16 for illustrations of this principle. The Loss of Purpose: As His ambassadors to a lost and dying world, God has called the church to be a holy people, a people who, standing out as distinct from the world, proclaim the excellencies of the works of God in Christ (1 Pet. 1:14-16; 2:9-15). If this is to occur, we must

The Fearless Organization: Creating Psychological Safety

I would advise against providing an artificial or bogus deadline. If the other person discovers that the deadline was not real, your credibility will be damaged. He will never take your deadlines seriously again. Instead, provide the specific date and time. For example, "by noon tomorrow (Thursday)" or "by 5:00 p.m. on Friday, August 7th."

5 frogs are sitting on a log. 4 of the frogs decide to jump off. How many frogs are left? Did you answer 1? The correct answer is still 5. This is because there is a difference between deciding and doing. Have you experienced this in your own life? We tend to make a lot of decisions. We decide to eat healthier, get another degree, or start a

10 Top Rules for a Personal SWOT Analysis

Several years ago, I was looking for a tutorial that would help me fix my damaged walls in the upstairs master bath. After removing all of the wallpaper, there were imperfections everywhere thanks to torn drywall paper. At the time, I was hoping that there was someone out in the web world who could teach me the right way to fix this problem. I didn't know what 'level 5 drywall' was.

How to Reboot Your Morale. Perhaps, like Sima, you feel as though you've lost your way at work. If so, don't worry, you're not alone. According to employment research company Gallup, less than a third of U.S. employees are "involved in, enthusiastic about, and committed to their work.". It's inevitable that our morale might dip occasionally.
